To Whom It May Concern:

It is a pleasure and an honor to recommend Dave Kelly as a facilitator/trainer for your next event.

Dave was our "keynote presenter" at our annual Student Leadership Conference on February 23, 2007. In addition, we asked him to also present a "lunch time work session." Dave really delivered by addressing our theme, "The New Face of Leadership." Dave began the day's activities with a wonderful presentation on leading in the 21st Century. He addressed skills that "millennial" students need in order to succeed. He really nailed the concept that while technology is here and is important, it's the people skills and relationships that we form that impact change. Students left the presentation inspired and with a clearer understanding of their place in the world. The lunch session was a "hands on" work session that taught students how to dream, and then make plans and set goals to achieve those dreams.

Dave is the consummate professional. He really listened to our needs and worked diligently to prepare a presentation that met our specific goals for the conference. Phone calls and E-mails were returned promptly, thus making travel and other conference related tasks much easier.

Above all, Dave really cares about people, and in this case, our students. He demonstrated this by being open, honest, and approachable with our students. His message provided good, quality content; just what our students needed. He left them with much to think about, and most importantly, a plan of action for success.

I highly recommend you consider Dave Kelly for your training and leadership development activities. He will not disappoint. His proven leadership record has allowed him to develop leadership and training programs to meet almost every need. Dave knows leadership. Why not learn from one of the best?

Sincerely,

Judy Schwartz
